

HP Customer Testimonials

HP Web Jetadmin

"HP Web Jetadmin is the central command center for our printing environment. We like the remote control functionality, particularly because it gives us the opportunity to proactively notify users that we're aware of a paper jam, or an impending need for a cartridge replacement. It's enabled us to elevate our level of service to users."

-Jim Livornese, Project Manager of Information Technology Services, Central Piedmont Community College

HP CM8060/CM8050 Color MFPs with Edgeline Technology

"We've been testing the HP CM8060 Color MFP in the office for a few months and without a doubt it is better than other devices we've seen before. It's extremely user friendly and intuitive which is a nice change because for the first time we didn't feel like we needed an engineering degree to use it. Even though we have a beta version of the HP CM8060 Color MFP, we'd keep this device as is rather than switch back to a copier machine. HP has hit a homerun with this one."

- Michael A. Lindstrom, Group Vice President, Engineering, ECCO Group

"The user interface on the HP CM8060 Color MFP is incredible. We'd buy it just for that. I'm in IT, but our other users are not and on our previous non-HP device users got lost in the menus. With this new HP MFP it's self explanatory to breeze right through it. Every business wants speed and efficiency and this printer offers both. Usually we give instructions on how to use a new machine and we didn't even hang a sheet for this one. It's just plug and play. We directed people from all over the company to use it because it was just so easy."

- Ryan Barnhart, Micro Systems Manager, WinCo Foods, Inc.

"The HP CM8060 Color MFP is a powerful printing system. We produced booklets for HR, manuals, newsletters, ledger-size spreadsheets as well as maps and diagrams making full use of all five media trays. The new color MFP has a more flexible and comprehensive user interface which was easy to deploy from an IS perspective and intuitive for users. We knew the HP CM8060 Color MFP had made an impact when an employee remarked after the evaluation that it felt like one of the family had left home and was really missed!"
