

HP Creates Channel Partner Community to Reach Enterprises of all Sizes via Skilled Partners

PALO ALTO, Calif., Feb 15, 2007 – HP has announced the creation of a HP Virtual Server Environment (VSE) channel partner community to accelerate the adoption of HP VSE and enable customers, regardless of the size of their enterprise, to realize the benefits of virtualization with HP VSE.

The HP VSE channel partner community is comprised of partners who have demonstrated expertise in providing virtualization solutions based on HP VSE to customers through certification testing and proven experience.

Together, HP and its channel partners have the expertise to provide a better customer experience with integrated virtualization solutions for HP Integrity and HP 9000 servers that provide the flexible capacity and agility to increase the return on their IT investments.

HP will continue to expand and support the community of HP VSE certified partners to deliver fully-functional, feature-rich virtualization solutions to meet the evolving needs of customers of all sizes.
