

HP Expands Software Partner Community with New Partner Integrations

HP today announced the addition of seven independent software vendors (ISVs) to its Enterprise Management Alliance Partner Program (EMAP). This extension and enhancement of the HP Software partner ecosystem is designed to fulfill specific business requirements and deliver competitive, differentiated solutions to customers for improved business outcomes.

HP and its partners within the program are able to provide a better customer experience by leveraging each other's expertise to create a customer-oriented, integrated software portfolio that minimizes the complexity, cost and time associated with managing heterogeneous IT environments.

The following partners joined EMAP:

- mValent
- nCircle
- Sapphire InfoTech, Inc.
- SPI Dynamics, Inc.
- Surgient, Inc.
- Telelogic
- Triumfant Inc.

Additionally, HP announced new certification services for its EMAP partners, including:

- HP Quality Center 9.2: New certifications testing enables partners to complete reliable and robust integrations with the industry's leading quality management solution. Certified integrations help provide faster deployment times and an improved customer experience.
- HP QuickTest Professional 9.0: New certifications testing enables partners developing product extensions via the extensibility APIs to verify that their offering integrates well with QuickTest Professional.
- HP Performance Center and HP LoadRunner 9.0: Enables partners offering protocols developed using the protocol SDK to integrate with LoadRunner and Performance Center and provide an add-on solution for load testing applications not developed within HP's R&D team. This provides customers with access to a wide breadth of applications and protocols.
