Partner quotes:

Microsoft

"Windows Home Server was designed to be as valuable in a small office setting as it is in a home office, and HP is meeting the needs of small businesses with its new HP StorageWorks X500 Data Vault. Small business owners now have an affordable option for easily adding storage, automated back-up and data accessibility capabilities to their computer networks."

– Leslie McGuire, Director, Microsoft Solutions Marketing

Intel

"Small business users are demanding intelligent and efficient storage solutions that are easy to manage and scale to support data growth. Intel processors with leading performance and reliability enable HP to deliver the HP StorageWorks X500 Data Vault, a centralized storage solution that makes it simple for small businesses to access, protect and share their vital business information."
