

David Sliter

Vice President, Products and Solutions, Communication and Media Solutions, Software & Solutions

Hewlett-Packard Company

In his role of vice president of Products and Solutions for the Communication and Media Solutions (CMS) business at HP, David Sliter's responsibilities encompass the design and build of a product/solution management roadmap to further strengthen the HP CMS portfolio and stimulate cross-domain initiatives.

Prior to HP, Sliter held the role of group general manager, Industry Solutions at Microsoft. During his four-year tenure there, he and his team developed software and services rich solutions aimed at pulling the Microsoft platform into the communications and media industry. Prior to that, Sliter spent twenty years at Nortel in a variety of roles, culminating in the post of vice president and general manager in Multimedia Communications, where he developed market segmentation and defined product strategy to win key customer segments. Prior to this role, he held the position of vice president, Network Services Research and Development for Nortel.

Sliter is a graduate of the Microcomputing Engineering Technology program at St. Lawrence College in Cornwall, Ontario, Canada.

Hewlett-Packard Company 3000 Hanover Street Palo Alto, CA 94304 www.hp.com

© 2009 Hewlett-Packard Development Company, L.P.