

Rod Walker

Vice President, Business Intelligence Solutions, HP Software & Solutions

Hewlett-Packard Company

Rod Walker is a vice president in the Business Intelligence Solutions unit of HP Software and Solutions. Walker's responsibilities include facilitating cross-business-unit connections around business intelligence to create new ways to leverage the entire HP portfolio, and assisting in HP's business and technology solutions for BI challenges of Global 2000 companies.

Previously, Walker was vice president and managing practice principal of HP's Information Management Practice within HP Services' Consulting and Integration organization. Prior to HP's acquisition of Knightsbridge Solutions in December 2006, Walker served as president, chief executive officer and board member at Knightsbridge after joining in 1999.

Before joining Knightsbridge, Walker was co-founder and senior executive of Technology Solutions Company (TSC). Prior to TSC, he was a partner with Arthur Young & Company. Given his experience in entrepreneurial ventures, Walker brings significant depth in building fast-growth IT businesses, from selling and managing complex IT solutions to mergers and acquisitions, profit and loss management, and infrastructure development.

Walker has more than 35 years of experience in information services consulting and systems integration, and has earned numerous awards and honors for strategic business and operational excellence, including Ernst & Young's Illinois Entrepreneur of the Year and the International Association of Business Communicators' Spectra Integrity Award for communications leadership excellence.

Walker holds Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degrees in computer science and a Master of Science in finance from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.
