HP CloudSystem Enterprise Starter Suite Accelerates Delivery of Platform and Application Cloud Services

Enterprises are adopting private clouds to speed innovation, increase agility and lower operating costs. While many implementations start with delivering infrastructure services, organizations are increasingly looking to deliver more advanced platform and application services in their private clouds.

With more than 1,000 customers, HP CloudSystem is a key part of the HP Converged Cloud portfolio, providing the most complete, open and integrated solution for building and operating clouds. The new HP CloudSystem Enterprise Starter Suite allows organizations to quickly take the first step to deliver advanced platform and application cloud services. Composed of automation, orchestration and cloud management software solutions, as well as an associated installation service, this package is specifically designed to make it easy to add platform and application services to private cloud environments.

Rapid value and enterprise grade

A single solution, the CloudSystem Enterprise Starter Suite delivers rapid installation in two weeks. With the CloudSystem Enterprise Starter Suite, customers can also save up to 20 percent compared to the cost of purchasing individual components.⁽¹⁾

The CloudSystem Enterprise Starter Suite includes an easy to use portal that allows users to quickly order platform, application and infrastructure cloud services with robust lifecycle management, minimizing risk and providing confidence. The offering is specifically designed to make it easy to add platform and application services to CloudSystem Matrix environments, which deliver infrastructure cloud services.

Since launching in 2011, HP CloudSystem has delivered an open platform to customers to build and manage cloud services across private, public and hybrid environments. It provides customers with choice so they can avoid being locked in to particular technologies. Like other members of the portfolio, the CloudSystem Enterprise Starter Suite supports multiple hypervisors and physical servers. It also allows bursting to and brokering of public cloud services.
