

Executive Biography

Sheryl Wharff

Global Product Marketing Lead, HP Atalla
Enterprise Security Products
Hewlett-Packard Company

Sheryl Wharff is the global product marketing lead of HP Atalla. In this role, she is responsible for building and driving marketing campaigns for all HP Atalla encryption security solutions and sales tools designed to help disrupt the adversary ecosystem.

Prior to joining HP, Wharff served as the Americas communications and channel marketing director for Thales e-Security. Wharff spent her career with various leading technology companies such as EMC, Aspect, Applix, NMS Communications, GTE CyberTrust and Digital. Her career is characterized by award-winning marketing programs that drove increased revenues for these companies and their value-added partnerships. In June 2013, Wharff was honored as one of “The Top 100 Women in the Channel” by CRN Magazine.

Wharff is a graduate of Jackson Business University in Michigan.