Executive Biography

Mary Fish

Senior Vice President, Global Head of Print Software Platform & Solutions, HP Inc.

---

Mary Fish is a seasoned professional who brings a valuable blend of both industry and consulting experience. Before joining HP, Mary worked at Accenture where she was a Managing Director and Practice Lead for their Intelligent Products and Platform Division driving strategy, execution, and engineering for some of the world's largest high-tech companies. Prior to Accenture, Mary was an executive at Akamai Technologies where she served in a variety of leadership roles including Platform & Data Engineering, Strategy, Product & Program Management, and Digital Transformation. During her tenure at Akamai, Mary led several business critical and company-wide initiatives including the pivot to hybrid cloud service offerings, big data strategy and consolidation, and the overhaul of their product development lifecycle.

Mary's mission is to create a highly scalable, extensible, and reliable Print Software Platform providing HP's Print business to easily build, deploy, and create experiences our customers will love. Her collaboration with key business partners will be an integral part of her role, ensuring a strategic pan-HP approach.

Mary resides in Boston, Massachusetts with her husband and three children Teddy, Royce, and Guy.
