Michael Nielsen

Director, Solution Marketing, HP Networking
Hewlett-Packard Company

Michael Nielsen is director of Solution and Vertical Marketing for HP Networking. Nielsen and his team are responsible for the development and marketing of horizontal and vertical network-based solutions, spanning from small businesses to global enterprises and network service providers.

Prior to joining HP, Nielsen held senior leadership roles in engineering, product management, consulting engineering and marketing at Cisco Systems, McAfee and Juniper Networks. He has been active in the network, telecommunications and security industries since 1995, and has brought a number of industry-leading products and solutions to market.

Nielsen holds a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering.